Dear Dr Garlapati,

Welcome to the editorial board of the Industrial Biotechnology section of Frontiers in Bioengineering and Biotechnology. I look forward to working with you on growing an attractive, community-rooted publishing option.

To contribute to the editorial direction of the journal, I wonder whether you would be interested in organizing a collection of articles (Research Topic) in the journal around a focused theme of your choice.

Considering the Impact Factor score of 5.122 that the journal just received, I deem this could be a good moment to boost and promote your field of research.

Please let me know if you would like to discuss this further. I would be happy to send you some more information, or we could schedule a convenient time to connect with a phone call.

I very much look forward to hearing back from you and best from Lausanne,

Caterina
