Having seen the event grow and gain popularity among the masses, it gives me immense pleasure to welcome you all to yet another edition of JUIT Youth Parliament. With a magnificence and grandeur unlike any of its previous editions, JYP'19 provides the participants with an opportunity to put to use their diplomatic abilities, and showcase the best of their oratory skills and wit. Recognizing the challenges and controversies that developed in the aftermath of certain judgments passed by the Supreme Court, JYP strives to be open, inclusive and democratic in every way possible.

We wish to promote growth and exposure in thought and expression. And I hope, each one of us gets to take back some experience of substance. Best Wishes!

PROCEEDINGS: DAY 1

The 1st Day of the Lok Sabha started with the Secretary General declaring the council open. National Anthem and Oath taking ceremony followed and the proceedings started with the Scribe, Ms. Vaani Mahesh Rana taking the attendance of the parliamentarians. The attendance concluded and the simple majority was established at 40.

Mr. Narendra Modi, as the leader of the house, started with the statements addressing the agenda and through it, his fellow parliamentarians. The leader of the Opposition, Mr. Mallikarjun Kharge, followed Modi's speech of Shayaris, with some of his own. With these 2 speeches the momentum of the house was set at a high note, but came down bluntly owing to monotonous speeches and extensive use of the Points of Order (which in all essence were just twisted use of Points of Information).

Discussion Hour was in motion next, and the council focused with full exuberance on topics of Religious and Gender inequality. While the opposition challenged the bill on Triple Talaq in regard of the nature and duration of the punishment that is to be enforced, the ruling party made believe the council on all accounts that the provisions of the Bill were foolproof and necessary provisions, wherever necessary, had been made.

With a Point of Parliamentary enquiry, the parliamentarian of the INC made his feelings known about the how the rulings by simple majority is harming his party and the motions which they wish to raise. Many such unnecessary inquiries and deviation from the agenda at hand, sure made it easy to notice how vaguely the parliamentarians had researched the content.

In a council where marriage was termed as "contract" and Ayodhya as the "land of Lord Ram", it was but a wonder to see the EB giving chance to almost every parliamentarian to put forth their opinions in the house.

After the high tea, the zero hour was put into motion and saw bombardment of some really good questions from the opposition side which left the ruling party chasing their tails and answering with but the play of words. The decorum of the house was disrupted with blame games, allegations and cross talks which left the session without any closure and hopes for a better discussion the next day.

LOK SABHA – HOUSE OF THE PEOPLE; MAD PEOPLE.

- Prashant Gautam

From flying paper planes in an important session to shouting at top of their lungs in Parliament, not-so-serious antics are common in the house. This articulation emphasizes over our applauded and grandstander members of Parliament.

Initially the session seemed to be a blend of stand-up and interaction where honourable Prime Minister of India, Mr. Narendra Damodardas Modi addressed the fellow parliamentarians with a motivational speech about how his government always been a vocal proponent of women empowerment. As the flag-bearer of Indian civilizational values, Mr. Modi said that the BJP has always championed political upliftment of women, in governance or within the party organisation itself. You need facts? All hail BJP IT cell.

While General VK Singh tried to fuel the Mandir-Masjid drama again, the member of the opposition rightly pointed that Ram Rajya can be ushered through education and not by constructing a grand temple. Congress as always kept on defining themselves as the party of government activism; the party that says that government makes you richer, smarter and get the chickweed out of your lawn. From 'shayari' to poetry, MPs like Mallikarjun Kharge, Narendra Modi and Arun Jaitley have all had witty exchanges in the Parliament that have left the house in splits.

But no doubt both the parties being different sides of the same coin, have the art of looking for controversies and troubles finding them everywhere, diagnosing them incorrectly and applying the wrong remedies. However hard you try to span the history but it becomes mere failure in front of researched content.

BJP piggybacking on propaganda movies to keep morale high among its troops from reel to real, 'How is the josh' has become the slogan of the season the council's response proved it. The council also featured A Hug, Wink and 'Earthquake' Rahul Gandhi wants us to believe that a new-generation, metrosexual gentleness can combat hard-line machismo. The Reluctant Heir was suddenly looking like an eager leader. One of the popular caricatures that capture #JaaduKijhappi shows Gandhi discovering that the prime minister's chest is not quite the 56 inches it has been made out to be. When it comes to romance, we know that courtship is the easy part of building any relationship. But the real work of keeping the Executive Board interested will take more than headline-grabbing charm and chutzpah.

You know it's better for one to keep the mouth shut and give the impression that one is stupid than open it and remove all the doubts. 'Hazon Jawabon se Acchi hai Meri Khamoshi, Na Jaane Kitne Sawalon ki Aabru Rakhe,' which literally translates to: 'It is better to be quiet than to give a thousand answers, for who knows the number of questions whose dignity will remain intact.' The other not-worth speaking parliamentarians sat quietly and excluded themselves from council, thinking they'll be called elite but were just a base.

In a nutshell the first day of the session was nothing but a true reminiscent of the Indian Parliament; load of trash talk and wordplay but no result yielding arguments.

CHITTY-CHITS

- 1) Paresh Rawal to Sonia Gandhi : First of all it's 'Rawal' not 'Raval'. Samay ane dijiye apko pta chal jaega Babu Bhaiya Ka kamaal!
- 2) Rahul Gandhi : Is baar Eid par bakri khaaenge ya siwayiyaan
Naqvi Sahab : hamari zubaan meethi hai, siwayiyaan he khaaenge
- 3) Harsimrat Kaur to Arun Jaitley : Bhot hard! Bhot hard!
- 4) Rahul Gandhi to Sonia Gandhi : Mummy Mai theek to bol Raha hu na? Bta dijiye!

YOUTH TAKING THE REIGNS OF POWER

-Aryan Aggarwal

Today we witness the Power of our enlightened Youth and also hit the harsh reality grounds with the affairs of our Country. The Topics on which the house went head to head was 'Triple Talaq', a very recent topic and as expected there were lots of opinions on the topic. Most importantly, we asked the right questions, i.e.

1. Why men are given this right & not women?
2. What is the point of separation by just saying those 3 words?
3. Is it Justified or not?
4. What are the effects that are caused on the Women : Emotionally, Mentally and Physically?

Many influencing leaders of the house, like Shashi Tharoor, Mallikarjun Kharge, Narendra Modi, Arun Jaitley amongst others, set the tempo for their fellow members and ignited the Q&A round, there were also comical statements from Politicians like Rahul Gandhi, Owaisi and Ram Kripal Yadav. Even the Executive Board didn't leave the opportunity to make fun of Mr. Rahul Gandhi. When they found a chit floating in the parliament asking Mr. Rahul Gandhi about the time of Chotta Bheem, the EB introduced an Informal Session and said "Kisi aur ko Maze lene hai Rahul Gandhi Ji ke?", to which Arun Jaitley promptly replied: "Poori Duniya hi le rhi hai".

Rahul Gandhi tried making a comeback in the zero hour where he mocked the ruling party and asked "Agar Mandir Banega toh Time bhi bata dijiye"

In his Reply Gen. V K Singh defended the point of view of the ruling party and stated the intent of the government to make the Ram Mandir and pointed "Ram Mandir banega aur Supreme Court ke decision se banega".

Another talking Point was when the opposition party asked about why the laws have not been implemented and why woman are not been given equal rights. In reply Mr. Arun Jaitley stepped up and said "60 sal ho gaye aaplog so rahe the kya?" which created a buzz in the opposition campus and a heated moment was created but his words really moved and left the opposition in shock.

These Were the highlights of Day 1 and it was a brilliant display from both the parties who were going neck to neck with each other just to prove the other wrong, The EB Members have asked both parties to bring new Matter and throw light on them in the Day 2 Session only time will tell which party will outshine the other.

JUIT YOUTH CLUB (JYC)

ABOUT JYC

Having been through school life we all imagine that college life would be the same, if not more stressful; same never-ending classes, exams and uncountable assignments; leaving us with no time to enjoy life as we did in school. But this is so not true. College life in itself is an adventure that one embarks on from the moment they enter the college which has its fair share of new experiences. But the main highlights to anyone's college life are events that happen within the college that are full of life and enthusiasm. Our college has lots of events each academic year and all are planned by the JUIT Youth Club (JYC).

The JUIT Youth Club (JYC) is an autonomous student body, responsible for organising various events throughout the year. The JYC team works hard in planning events to the tiniest of details and then executing these plans with perfection. Student members of the JYC put in their efforts to ensure everything from event arrangements, proceedings to inviting guests and faculty goes on smoothly. Students work really hard, without any inhibitions regarding time or effort to make these events successful.
