The National Cadet Corps (NCC) cadets of Jaypee University of Information Technology, Waknaghat, undertook a laudable initiative towards creating awareness and actively march a rally on plastic waste management, afforestation and water harvesting. Plastic pollution poses a significant threat to the environment, ecosystems, and human health. To tackle this issue, comprehensive plastic waste management strategies have been implemented. Planting native trees in deforested or degraded areas to restore ecosystems and combat deforestation. Ongoing efforts and the collaboration of communities, governments, and businesses are crucial for achieving long-term success in creating a healthier and more sustainable planet.
